

Job Title:	Production Assembly Technician
Report To:	Production Manager
Direct Reports:	None
Starting Wage Range:	$12-$16 per hour based on experience
Hours:	4 -10's – Flexible schedule when trained
Employee Classification:	Hourly – non-exempt

Position Overview

This position is responsible for the assembly of the DewPoint steamers. The Production Assembly Technician has a direct impact on the quality of the products Staheli West produces, so exceptional work and attention to detail are very important.

Primary Responsibilities

- Assembling the DewPoint machines.
- Implement quality control to minimize errors.
- Maintain a clean, organized, and safe work environment.

Secondary Responsibilities

- Occasionally assist with other areas of production as directed by the production manager.

Skills/Qualifications Required

- Communicating effectively with coworkers.
- Ability to work fast and keep pace with production schedules.
- Ability to pay attention to detail and be production oriented.
- Mechanically inclined and experience with a variety of power tools.
- Ability to run equipment including but not limited to cranes, forklifts, tractors, etc.

NOTE: This job description is not intended to be all-inclusive. You will perform additional duties as required in order to meet the ongoing needs of the organization and fulfill job scope and responsibilities.